MURDER PLOT

From a source of proven reliability, WASHINGTON OBSERVER NEWSLETTER has learned that there is grave danger in the upcoming Spring months of a series of political assassinations.

A WO reporter asked if any defectors from the CIA's task force of trained political assassins were involved. The answer was blunt: "No—absolutely no." No further information on this highly sensitive matter could be elicited from the official.

WASHINGTON OBSERVER reported in its December 15 issue (No. 70) that a private effort would soon be mounted by responsible leaders to ferret out the truth of the assassination of President Kennedy and other assassinations. As disclosed in WO, this private effort includes filing, under the Freedom of Information Act, a significant lawsuit in the Federal Courts. On January 2, the public announcement was made of the establishment of the National Committee to Investigate Assassinations, headed by Frank Fensterwald, who is resigning as chief counsel of the Senate Judiciary Committee's subcommittee on administrative practice and procedure. The formation of the new foundation, therefore, comes at an opportune time. WO can only speculate what the Government's big, unwieldy security agencies are doing to prevent a reign of terror. Unfortunately, the FBI is prohibited from making investigations outside the U.S. The CIA is supposed to investigate espionage and sabotage activities originating outside the U.S.

Several former CIA officials have testified before Congressional committees that Communist agents have infiltrated "the Agency" as it is called by the cloak and dagger boys. When Fidel Castro was carrying on his revolutionary activities in Cuba, the CIA officially reported to the President's National Security Council that Castro was an "agrarian reformer" and was anti-Communist. This is only one of many times that the "Agency" has submitted false or misleading intelligence information to the President and the Security Council.

It is well known in Washington inner circles that the present CIA Director, Dick Helms, is a playboy type more interested in being the gay wit at cocktail receptions than running his worldwide net work of espionage operations. But he lost no time in ingratiating himself with President-elect Nixon.

EDITORIAL

The return of the captured crewmen of the U.S.S. Pueblo is an occasion for rejoicing for Americans.

We trust that our readers will pardon us for feeling especially good about the event, as we believe that we—and you—played an important part in the LBJ Administration's decision.

Now that the men are back, the human vulgures of the "free press" have begun their typical activities, aimed at protecting the traitors in the government who are responsible, and smearing the men who were betrayed. Drew Pearson—a repulsive creature who is known far and wide as a snivelling draft dodger and a physical coward—leads the pack as usual, hinting that Commander Bucher is to be condemned for the decisions he made while under torture—while he—Pearson—was wallowing in the fat luxury he has accumulated from years of extortion, well-paid, pro-Zionist propaganda and libel.

It was WO's story of August 15, "According to Plan," which first laid out some of the essential secret facts surrounding the deliberate betrayal of the Pueblo to Communist capture. This was followed by additional stories on September 15, and November 15. When the potent Liberty Lobby decided to make the issue a major project, we felt that our efforts were bearing fruit.

Just what the payoff was to get the men back we do not know, but the facts will one day come out. What is important now is that we continue to "remember the Pueblo" and to realize that the return of the men does not in the slightest diminish the critical need for an investigation into the facts surrounding its capture.

The men who gave the orders to allow the capture of the vessel and its crew, and who refused to take decisive action to get it back, are still in important policy-making positions and must be rooted out if our way of life is to survive.

HOT POTATO

Dr. Milton Eisenhower's Presidential commission report on violence will not be submitted until after the Nixon Inauguration. The sensational report is already written, but LBJ does not want to receive it—he wants "Milt" to toss the "hot potato" to Nixon. Like the Kerner-Ginsberg advisory commission on civil disorder, the Ike report accuses "White racists" of responsibility for violence, and condemn police tactical squads in ghettos and denounces the bad system of justice for the "Black disadvantaged."

The Ike commission goes even beyond the Kerner-Ginsberg cabal; it recommends that Cleveland police involved in a shoot-out last summer be indicted for murder. At that time, Black Power terrorists ambushed Cleveland police and in a 15-minute slaughter, killed three policemen and severely wounded 14 other policemen with automatic weapons; this was followed by widespread looting and burning. Cleveland's Negro mayor, Carl Stokes ordered all White police out of the riot areas and allowed the rioters to carry on their depredations.

The commission has worked very closely with two professional smear-mongering outfits throughout its life: The Institute for American Democracy, Inc. and Group Research, Inc. The former outfit is a front for the notorious Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, and the latter, while financed by Walter Reuther's captive membership, is supplied information from the ADL's enormous files in New York City.

Both IAD and Group Research want the commission to publish long lists of prominent American anti-communists and patriots who they declare, directly or indirectly incited violence and murder by their "inflammatory" statements. However, WO's informant doubts that even "Miltie" Eisenhower will go that far—not that he would not like to but apparently he doubts that the public would accept such an explanation.

WO also doubts that the public will accept the idea that the way to stop Negro rioting and violence is to kill the White policemen who try to enforce law and order and to suppress the publications (like WO) which dare to tell the truth about the subversive organization and personalities who are behind the rioters.

REVOLTING The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai
JEWS B'rith has fallen on evil days. It is losing its influence with its Jewish constituency, according to reliable Jewish sources.

Originally created to combat antagonism to the Jewish race, the ADL has developed into a vicious cloak and dagger gestapo that has boomeranged against Jewish professional men and business men who financially support it. When the ADL pins the "Anti-Semitic" label on a non-Jew (Gentile) all Jews are supposed to boycott that individual; many times the ADL erroneously stigmatizes Gentiles as "anti-Semitic" who are really not anti-Jewish.

Any person who is not in favor of political Zionism is promptly categorized as "Anti-Semitic." This indiscriminate castigation of anti-Zionists frequently proves highly embarrassing to Jews who have these persons as clients or customers.

Until recently the clannish Jews dared not question the edicts of their religious fraternal order, the B'nai B'rith. But today all Jews know that there is no organized discrimination against them except from the Negro Black Power groups. In closed-door meetings of local B'nai B'rith chapters, Jewish businessmen say: "Why should I quit doing business with a good customer simply because he is against giving U.S. military aid to Israel? To hell with it—I'm not in politics."

WO has positive confirmation that the above and similar remarks are made in Jewish meetings. While Jews are highly sensitive about discussing what takes place in their secret religious-political conclaves, WO has made tactful inquiries of a cross-section of Jewish business and professional men in Washington, D.C., where the Jews are the predominant economic force in the community.

Another thing that rankles Washington Jews is the persistent exhortations of the B'nai B'rith and other Jewish organizations that they continue to financially support Negro civil rights groups. The Jewish-supported Negro groups have either passively or openly espoused the wave of Negro violence and lawlessness that has run rampant in Washington during the past year—ever since President Johnson appointed the Negro Walter Washington as the Mayor of Washington. Damage incurred by the April, 1968 riot has been conservatively estimated at $24 million; 95% of the property stolen or destroyed was Jewish-owned.

While it does not receive nation-wide news coverage there has been a continuous wave of violence in Washington since the April riots. Every night dozens of store windows are smashed and goods stolen; every day there are several bold daylight robberies and at least one proprietor or employee beaten, knifed or shot. And at least once a week someone is murdered in these holdup escapades; 95% of the victims are Jewish small businessmen and 99% of the criminals involved are Negroes.

Jewish businessmen in Washington are terrorized by militant Negro organizations who solicit exorbitant contributions as "protection money" against further violence. Actually the "goodwill" promised by these Black blackmailers means nothing. Jewish businessmen are ominously warned by Black Power militants not to refurbish and reopen their looted and burned out stores in the Negro neighborhoods. Black businessmen are going to take over with 100% Federal loans under President Nixon's Black Capitalism program. The result is that many blocks in shopping centers of the Washington ghettos now stand vacant and the streets deserted. There are four sectors of Washington—extending from 10 to 20 blocks—that look like deserted Western mining ghost towns. Most of these waste properties are Jewish owned.

Recently a WO reporter accompanied a wealthy ex-Congressman to a clothing store to buy a suit. When the Jewish owner, who owned other clothing stores, was notified of the presence of his VIP customer, he rushed to the store. Affably greeting his distinguished customer, he said: "Mr. Congressman, how would you like to buy my business? I will sell it to you at a bargain—a real bargain. You have the great political influence to get police protection—I don't. I'm losing money. Arson insurance is outrageous; I can't even get insurance for plate glass windows. I have to buy expensive burglar alarms systems and hire security guards. I have to hire Negro clerks who steal from me. I have to keep a low stock of merchandise—which is no good because the customers have no wide choice of selection. From the time my managers and I unlock the doors in the morning until we lock the doors at night we are in constant danger of assault and sudden death. I spent many years of hard work building up a good profitable business—but no more. To hell with it. I want to get out of it while I am still alive.”

This is the consensus of Jewish businessmen today, but when they are interviewed by newspaper reporters, they are inhibited by fear and do not speak so freely.

Despite the attitude of the Jewish small businessmen, the ADL arrogantly served notice to the Washington newspapers to play down the continuous wave of violence. But the Jewish advertisers demanded that the newspapers give full coverage to robberies and arson, and say whether the bandits were White or Negro. Result: Washington newspapers now give full coverage about crimes against Jews by Negroes, but continue to play down Negro crimes against non-Jews. It is a remarkable demonstration of one-sided news reporting.

It is ironic that the Jews who were the principal financiers of the Negro civil rights movement, now live in stark terror of their beneficiaries. While it is virtually impossible to secure a police permit to carry a concealed weapon, many Jewish businessmen and professional men privately admit that they carry a gun on their person day or night. Jews are the special targets of the Black gangsters, who know the affluent Jews are in the habit of carrying large sums of cash on their person.

In his first pronouncement as president of the American Jewish Committee, former United Nations Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said it is imperative for Jews to continue support for the Negro's fight for full equality. Also, speaking before the American Jewish Committee, Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas said the battle of the Negro for equality is essentially the same as that of the Jews and Jews must help in this struggle. Fortas declared: “Jews should join the struggle of the Negro despite the despicable libel some of the Negro extremists are trying to use. Some militants and agitators are saying the recent waves of looting were not aimed at whites, but at Jewish store owners. But this is a lie.”

NOTE: There are plenty of Jewish merchants who know that it was Fortas who lied.

The ADL now charges that the Arabs are financing anti-Semitic propaganda disseminated by Black Power groups, and has pressured Attorney Ramsey Clark to “sic” the FBI bloodhounds on the Arab information center in New York.

“It's very understandable, but Jews are incredibly paranoid,” claims Gary Marx a young sociologist at Harvard. “They see an anti-Semite under every rock. Amid Negro militancy, this attitude flourishes.”

The New York Civil Liberties Union accuses the United Federation of Teachers (predominantly Jewish) of making political hay during the teachers' strike by capitalizing on Jewish insecurity. Albert Shanker, UFT president, printed half a million leaflets purporting to quote anti-Semitic documents circulating in the Negro Ocean Hill-Brownsville district of Brooklyn, center of violence between the Jewish teachers and the Black community.

Ira Glasser, associate director of the Civil Liberties Union, accused Shanker of using “the worst tactics since the days of Joe McCarthy!”

The ADL has fallen into such disrepute that it no longer exercises the absolute control over the “free press” that it has for two generations. The Conservative Republican paper, Human Events, for example, which has in the past threatened its writers with oblivion if they would write for “anti-Semitic” publications, recently dared to mildly criticize the ADL. And whereas once the ADL could count its captive columnists by the dozen, all it has on leash today are bedraggled hacks, such as Drew Pearson, Jack Anderson and Morris Bealle—the latter a senile scandal broker who is financially associated with Emanuel Josephson, millionaire agent for the British Rothschild billions.

The decline of the ADL and the Zionist power in America throws into bold light the question of whether or not America can be tricked into following the lead of the Zionists into war with the Soviet Union to protect Israel. Added to this is the simple fact that all Americans are sick and tired of fighting wars for others, and that millions of them, even though they have been brought up to obediently accept the Jews as above criticism and “God's Chosen People” are becoming increasingly skeptical of the real aims of the Jews among them and suspicious of expansionist Israel.

Although still not to be underestimated, the decline of Zionist influence in America is a highly significant fact, even though all discussion of it is avoided by the “free press.”

LEFTIST The young man credited with organizing the “Dump Lyndon Johnson” campaign has been rewarded with a seat in the House of Representatives. His name is Allard Kenneth Lowenstein, who succeeds Herbert Tenzer as the Representative from the 5th Congressional District of New York. Rookie Congressmen are supposed to be speechless and powerless during their first two-year tenure of office, but Lowenstein is destined to be the exception to the rule.

A year ago, when Al Lowenstein started organizing the Coalition for a Democratic Alternative, LBJ underestimated this brash young Left-wing actionist, who with a small band of Leftist colleagues recruited thousand of students nationwide and fund-raisers and organizers. He induced Senator Gene McCarthy to enter the New Hampshire primary and furnished him with funds and an army of student campaign helpers. McCarthy's good showing had a chain reaction: Bobby Kennedy immediately jumped in the race and LBJ withdrew.

Though only 39 years old, Lowenstein has been a longtime adviser of the late Eleanor Roosevelt, the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., Norman Thomas and Robert Kennedy. When he was only 23 he became special assistant to Mrs. Roosevelt when she was delegate to the United Nations.

Later, he became president of the National Student Association when it was drawing millions in secret funds from the CIA. He made a clandestine trip to South-West Africa for the CIA and with the aid of CIA funds organized anti-Franco student rebels in Spain. He helped to organize the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party in 1963 and the Selma, Alabama, civil rights demonstrations with Martin Luther King; he aided Bayard Rustin with Negro voter registrations using CIA funds.

At the Democratic National Convention in Chicago last year, Lowenstein organized the Coalition for an Open Convention in an effort to stop Hubert Humphrey from getting the Democratic nomination. He also helped to incite the student riots in Chicago. He now offers the hand of friendship to Nixon—if Dick will turn sharply to the Left.

Observations

President Nixon will be under great pressure to appoint Admiral Thomas H. Moorer as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff when Gen. Earle G. Wheeler steps down, next July 31. Moorer is a politicians' soldier who is held responsible by those in the know for the capture of the Pueblo. Moorer obediently followed Walt Rostow's orders to allow the ship to be captured by the North Koreans without making the slightest attempt to recapture it. . . . Nixon's Jewish law partner, Leonard Garment, is recruiting Negroes for top-flight Government jobs. . . . Daniel Patrick Moynihan, Nixon's chief White House adviser on urban affairs, says he is in favor of discriminatory hiring in favor of Negroes and is pledged to encourage pro-Negro discrimination in housing, education and small business loans. Political pundit William F. Buckley, Jr. says he concurs with Moynihan but he thinks something should be done to help Whites who are displaced by Blacks. . . . New Secretary of Labor George P. Schultz says he will give Negro job aid top priority.

The Wall Street Journal has broken a fantastic story showing how taxpayer's money spent to subsidize the merchant marine ends up in the campaign coffers of Left-wing congressmen and senators, through the good offices of the AFL-CIO Seafarers International Union. . . . Senator Abraham Ribicoff's (D-Conn) international banker friends of Wall Street kicked in a million dollars to keep him where he is. . . . The last election set a modern record for low voter turnout. Only 60.8% of the registered voters showed up at the polls. That compares with 62% in 1964 and 63.8% in 1960. This was in spite of labor's biggest drive ever. A turnout of 62% would have supplied three million extra votes—and could have given HHH victory with 199 electoral votes by carrying California, Ohio, Illinois and New Jersey. . . . COPE scores a net gain for Conservatives in the House of "only two." . . . And obituaries COPE: "The most striking aspect of the failure of Conservatives to grab control of Congress is the lop-sided spending by the GOP on behalf of its candidates, with so little gain to show." . . . Guy Yoltan; big cheese in the direct mail fundraising industry, says that the GOP National Committee put out 10 million pieces of mail in two months following the Miami convention and raised $4.3 million. This does not include the millions raised by the Congressional Committee and other GOP committees and for individual candidates.

Text of the Remarks by President Johnson to the Anti-Defamation League

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—Following is the text of remarks by President Johnson to the Anti-Defamation League today:

On this occasion, I want to share with you some thoughts on what I conceive to be the meaning of this moment in our nation's life.

In all of history, men have never lived as we are privileged to live now—at this rare and precious moment.

Our arms are strong, our freedoms many. Our homes are secure, our tables full. Our knowledge is great, our understanding grows. We enjoy plenty, we live in peace.

This is much—but there is more.

Out of the years of fire and faith in this 20th century our diverse peoples have forged together a consensus such as we have not known before—a consensus on our national purposes, our national policies and the principles to guide them both.

Consensus Is New

This consensus is new. We have come to it more suddenly than we foresaw—and more fully than we anticipated. Today questions are being asked about the meaning of that consensus—proper, penetrating and profound questions.

Thoughtful men want to know, Are we entering an era when consensus will become an end in itself?

Will we substitute consensus for challenge?

Will a devotion to agreement keep us from those tasks that are disagreeable?

For myself, I turn back to the ancient Scriptures for the answer:

"He that observeth the wind shall not sow and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap."

If we were to try, this restless, stirring and striving nation would never live as the captive of a comfortable consensus.

We Shall Know Trials

The times ahead for us—and for the world—are not to be bland and placid. We shall know tests. We shall know trials—and we must be ready. For I believe more will be demanded of our stewardship than of any generations which have held the trust of America's legacy before us.

Let me be specific.

We are at the threshold of a new America—new in numbers, new in dimensions, new in its concepts, new in its challenges.

If the society we have brought already to greatness is to be called great in times to come, we must respond to that tomorrow today.

The unity of our people—and the consensus of their will—must be the instrument we put to use to strengthen our society, undergird its values, elevate its standards, assure its order, advance the quality of its justice, nourish its tolerance and reason and enlarge the meaning of man's rights for every citizen.

I believe with Justice Brandeis that:

"If we would guide by the light of reason, we must let our minds be bold."

This is what we are striving to do now here in your capital—and in your government.

'Grasping the Nettle's'

Invested with the trust of America's consensus, we are grasping the nettle of our society. We are not avoiding controversy to prolong the political consensus—rather, we are striving to use the consensus to resolve and remove the political controversies that have stood too long across the path of our people's progress and fulfillment.

Since the State of the Union Message on Jan. 4—only one month ago—we will have sent to the Congress by the end of this week 16 messages—messages facing up to conflicts, to controversies and to the needs for change in our society.

For what we have asked, we stand ready to welcome all support or confront all opposition. Believing that our requests are right, and our cause is just, we are determined that the opportunity of this rare and precious moment shall not be denied, defaulted or destroyed.

If some say our goals are idealistic, we welcome that as a compliment. For 188 years, the strongest fiber of America has been that thread of idealism which weaves through all our effort and aspiration.

Let the world know—let it be known throughout our own land—that this generation of Americans is not so cynical, not so cool, not so callous that idealism is out of style.

In a national house filled to overflowing, we are determined that the lives we lead shall not be vacant and empty.

Not Statistics But Substance

Your Government is concerned not with statistics but with the substance of your schools, your jobs, your cities, your family life, your country-side, your health, your hopes, your preparedness—and your rights and opportunities.

For as Emerson once said:

"The true test of civilization is not the census, nor the size of cities nor the crops, but the kind of man the country turns out."

We are concerned with the kind of man the country turns out in these times and the times to come.

In a changing environment, a changing society, a changing age, we are determined that America shall turn out men who are enlightened and just, men who know beauty in their lives and compassion in their souls, men who are hardened by the strength of their faith rather than by the harshness of their fears.

It is for this that we work and fight—and ask you to work and fight with us—in a consensus of common purpose and common idealism.

No Turning Away

While we look inward to search the soul of America, we do not turn inward—nor turn away—from the opportunities and responsibilities of America in the world.

We proceed as we do, knowing that as we cannot isolate ourselves from the world, so we cannot isolate our role in the world from our responsibilities at home.

We must meet the responsibilities here if we are to be equal to the opportunities elsewhere. But the success of all we undertake—the fulfillment of all we aspire to achieve—rests finally on one condition: the condition of peace among men.

In your citation tonight, the words expressed the essence of America in the thought that "as a country, we try."

I believe it is the highest legacy of our democracy that we are always trying—trying, probing, falling, resting and trying again—but always trying and always gaining.

This is the approach we bring to the pursuit of peace.

Not in a day or a year or a decade in 120 nations or more—not, perhaps, in a lifetime—shall we finally grasp the goal of peace for which we reach.

But we shall be always reaching, always trying—and, hopefully, always gaining.

Toward that end, when I spoke last month to the Congress, I expressed the hope that the new leadership of the Soviet Union might visit our land—and to see us, to meet us, to learn first-hand the determination here in America for peace and the equal determination to support freedom.

I am gratified that this expression is receiving the active, constructive—and, I hope, fruitful—attention and interest of the Soviet Government.

I have reason to believe that the Soviet leadership would welcome my visit to their country—as I would be glad to do. I am hopeful that before the year is out this exchange of visits between us may occur. As I have said often before, the longest journey begins with a single step—and I believe such visits would reassure an anxious world that our two nations are each striving toward the goal of peace.

Another Patman Exposure KAPLAN MYSTERY FOUNDATION DRAWS MORE FEDERAL SILENCE

Reprinted from The Councilor

Rep. Wright Patman turned the spotlight on the mysterious "Kaplan Operations," but the Central Intelligence Agency asked Patman and other congressmen to keep quiet.

YOU ARE SELLING US DEW
Here are a few random facts:

(1) Patman and other congressmen recently investigated the J. M. Kaplan Fund as part of an inquiry into illegal political activities of tax-exempt foundations. What they found was not for the eyes and ears of U. S. taxpayers, although Soviet agents obviously know and understand the whole operation.

(2) Patman learned that the income tax bureau (IRS) had called off its own investigation of the J. M. Kaplan Fund on top level orders.

(3) The Fund not only engages in political activity with an illegal tax-free status, but it receives illegally huge sums of money from the CIA.

(4) Meanwhile, another Kaplan group, the Joseph A. Kaplan Foundation, is busy agitating for destruction of U. S. immigration barriers.

(5) The Joseph A. Kaplan Foundation was sponsor of immigration pamphlets allegedly authored by John Kennedy. These pamphlets were published by the leftwing Anti-Defamation League, a powerful group which uses its own secret police to fight Christian organizations and anti-communist organizations.

(6) Many patriots believe that the CIA is merely an international extension of the Anti-Defamation League, but Congress appears powerless to either prove or disprove these charges.

(7) A massive publicity campaign is being prepared in New York (and other international centers) as part of an onslaught on the few remaining barriers to large scale immigration of Asiatic and African hordes.

(8) Several past investigations of tax-exempt foundations were halted or watered down by the "coincidental" deaths of congressmen sponsoring such investigations. Among the dead congressmen was Rep. Cox who pointed out that the Julius Rosenwald Foundation—fattened with Sears, Roebuck profits—had communist fronts in the United States and other countries.
